How About Those Apples?

By Oliver Murray
Councilman of Seaside

An infamy has been practiced on the city of Seaside for the past year. It began April 14, 1970 when your Mayor told the people of Seaside that they had made a mistake in their choices at the election that day. In a person of Haddad's caliber sour grapes was to be expected, but the deliberate destruction of the City Council through a hideous propaganda campaign has become an infamy that must be identified for what it is.

The Mayor instituted his program of defiant arrogance seven days after the election at a Special Council Meeting where he and his colleagues tried to ram the Pit sale through the Lame Duck Council. Arrogant contempt thus initiated his relations with his new Council. Anticipating he could not rule them, he insulted and thwarted them.

In May he made a major issue of the fact that this Council was obstructionist because it insisted on its share of appointments to boards and commissions. This is common policy in every other city in this state. But in Seaside the Mayor demanded that the Mayor's right to rule must be absolute.

In June after only a half dozen council meetings His Honor hurled his famous challenge and $5000 worth of banner headline propaganda at the Council to resign with him and run for reelection. His famous showdown challenge was nothing but a calculated and deliberate misrepresentation. The law actually prohibits a resigned official from running for elective office for a year following a resignation.

But time after time he flooded the media with his fraudulent challenge. First he taunted them to "have the guts to meet this challenge!" This was deliberately intended deceit to induce resignations and then disqualify the resignee because he was ineligible to run again. Number two, by virtue of his office this man, Louis Haddad, placed the office of Mayor in unalterable opposition to the Council itself in a challenge to destroy it. This, before that Council had held office three months! By a man elected to lead and unite, rather than destroy? Call that your Honor?

The press, more interested in easy sensation than the substance of representations parrotted the challenge repetitiously in a systematic discredit of the Council. The program was a fraud and a deliberate lie, - all initiated by "His Honor". Finally when Stephen Ross accepted his offer, the Mayor renegged, with an absolute minimum of publicity. His Excellency did not have the guts to accept his own offer.

Meanwhile the Mayor was organizing Seaside's summer recreation programs, the Communist Conspiracy of the Seaside 19 and the Seaside Citizens for Good (Haddad)

Anti-Poverty Approves New Grant

The Monterey County Anti-Poverty Coordinating Council has issued a grant to the "Spanish-Speaking Council Incorporated"-a non-profit organization, currently located at 1443 Lassen Street in Salinas.

The grant, which was approved by the Anti-Poverty Council March is for planning and technical assistance in preparing a proposal for funding from the office of Health-Education and Welfare for the proposed development of a Skills Development Center.

Armando Pina, first vice-president of the Anti-Poverty Executive Board, presented the check in ceremonies at the Spanish-Speaking Council Headquarters. Accepting for the Spanish-Speaking Council was Sam Carrillo, Project Director.

Carrillo said that the function of the Skills Development Center would be to alleviate human suffering and to reduce welfare cost by providing functional literacy in English to all persons in Monterey County over 16 years of age whose income is below the poverty level and who are eductionally deprived.

The Skills Development Center would be located in Salinas. However extension services would be offered throughout Monterey County, consistant with geographical and participant needs.

Carrillo said the center would operate on a 12-month per year basis and if approved by H.E.W. would be in operation by mid-summer of this year.

LET's NOT FORGET - Mayor of six cities on Peninsula signed proclamation recently proclaiming week of March 21 to 27 "Concern for Prisoners of War and Missing in Action in Southeast Asia Week." From left are Phil Calabrese of Sand City, Mrs. Raymond Bouder, Joseph Ansel representing Monterey, Barney Laiolo of Carmel, Earl Grafton of Pacific Grove, Mrs. Edwin Plowman, Charles Benson of Del Rey Oaks, Mrs. Frederick Pjillippi and Low Haddad of Seaside. The ladies pictured represent organization known as Help Us Help Them.

County March Of Dimes Is Big Success

The Monterey County March of Dimes reached 137 percent of their 1971 campaign goal, announced Dean Goodale, county chairman at a recent board meeting.

"In 1970, $20,000,000 was contributed by the people of Monterey County, To date, funds collected in 1971 campaign to fight birth defects total over $30,000,000.

A special award was presented to the Salinas Radio Emergency Associated Citizens Team. This award was for outstanding community service in aiding in county-wide collection of donations in the January fund raising drive.

"I feel that the increase in funds raised this year is due primarily to the efforts of the individuals and groups involved in the 1971 campaign," said Goodale. "Residents of our county are also increasingly aware of the March of Dimes programs of birth defects prevention. Now that two birth defects preventative, the RH and Rubella vacciness are available, the role of the March of Dimes education programs assume new importance."

Local funds are returned to the community through educational programs such as the distribution of free prenatal care literature and medical programs on birth defects prevention established for local physicians and other medical personnel.

Monterey County funds also assure continued research at the Salk Institute for biological studies.

"These programs make the March of Dimes one of the best health investments for residents of Monterey County," emphasized Dean Goodale, "and I want to thank all of those who worked so hard to make this possible."

Food Stamp Program Helps County

The Food Stamp program, beginning its third year of operation in Monterey County, has increased the food buying power of public assistance recipients and other low-income individuals and families more than 91 percent in the past two years.

William Leach, Monterey County director of public welfare, has advised James H. Smith, in charge of the United States Department of Agriculture's Food and Nutrition Service office in Salinas, that in the two years which ended last February 2, Monterey County food stamps recipients paid $3,502,130, for which they received $6,698,314 in coupons. The difference represents the "bonus" of additional food purchasing power contributed by USDA.

Participation in the program during January 1971 totaled 5,621 households, embracing 19,031 persons.

Leach points out the Food Stamps program gives low-income people the opportunity to buy bonus-added coupons with the same amount of money they would normally be expected to spend for food. The coupons are accepted at 207 Monterey County retail outlets.

The public welfare department certifies the eligibility of participants and finances the cost of coupon issuance at 22 food stamp sales outlets in the county.

Leach said most public assistance recipients are eligible for the program, but other low income individuals and families not on public assistance also may qualify for participation depending upon income and resources.

For example, a family of four with a monthly net income of $340 or less and liquid resources of $1,500 or less would be eligible. A family of six with $460 or less monthly net income and liquid resources of $1,500 or less, also qualifies.

A significant number of food stamp beneficiaries not on welfare are older, retired people living on social security benefits, pensions or other small fixed incomes.

Officials point out that participation in the Food Stamp program is completely voluntary. Grocer cooperation also is voluntary and officials say this cooperation helps the program operate effectively.

Information on the Food Stamp program is available from offices of the Monterey County Public Welfare Department.

POST Shows Are Success

The weekly showings of "Sesame Street", the very successful children's TV program, at the office of the POST newspaper each Saturday morning has been quite a success.

Last Saturday over 20 children showed up to watch the show on two color TV sets donated by TV Mart on Fremont and Rosoff's Furniture on Broadway.

The weekly activities to interest children from 4 to 9 years is the combined effort of a group of men and women who want to start a creative cultural program in Seaside.

The programs will continue each Saturday from 9:30 AM to 11:30 AM. All children are invited; a supervised program is arranged with a teacher in attendance. That's at 510 Broadway this Saturday, March 27th and every Saturday until further notice.

Meeting For Lusk

There will be a meeting of all supporters of Reverend H. H. Lusk, candidate for Seaside representative to the Monterey Peninsula Unified School District board, on Saturday, March 27 at 3 p.m. The meeting will be held at Bethel Baptist Church on Elm Street in Seaside.

All campaigners and supporters are urged to attend. Refreshments will be served.

Call For Bids

Six-lane freeway construction is scheduled for Route 1 in Monterey County, through Fort Ord just north of Monterey.

Bids on the $6,000,000 project are being called by the California Division of Highways and will be opened April 28 in Sacramento.

About four miles of six-lane divided freeway will be constructed on partial realighment, with provision for ultimate expansion to eight lanes. Job limits are from just north of Ord Village overhead in Sand City to just south of Reservation Road at Marina.

The work includes construction of two interchanges at the main and north entrances to Fort Ord and an overhead structure to carry the freeway over the railroad tracks of the Southern Pacific Transportation Company.

In addition, an undercrossing will be constructed at First Street and an overcrossing at Eight Street. All structures will serve Fort Ord.

At the south, this project is joined by four-lane freeway completed in 1968. To the north, it becomes four-lane divided highway without access control.

The new six-lane construction is scheduled for completion late in 1972.

Anti-Poverty Council Gets More Funds

The Monterey Anti-Poverty Coordinating council has received additional funds of $33,680 from the U.S. Department of Labor, Edward Aguirre, regional manpower administrator announced recently.

The increase in funds provides training and retraining of seventeen persons in the Operation Mainstream program. Designed primarily to meet the needs of the older worker, program funds now total $139,270 through March 31, 1972.

Job training is accomplished in a cooperative effort with public and private non-profit organizations.

NPS Gets Safety Award

The Naval Postgraduate School has been named one of two Naval activities to receive the Secretary of the Navy Award for Achievement in Safety for the calendar year 1969.

The Secretary of the Navy has given these awards annually since 1946 to shore installations, commands and bureaus which establish outstanding records in industrial and government vehicular safety for military and civilian personnel.

The large number of Navy activities and varied categories involved in safety account for the time lapse before the award winner is made public.

In awarding the plaque, Secretary of the Navy John Chaffee, said it was evidence of the School's conscientious adherence to the Navy's accident-prevention rules and practices.

Mothers Show Peace Films

"MOTHERS AND OTHERS FOR PEACE" of Monterey County has announced it is sponsoring David Schoenbrun's film, "Vietnam And Beyond" and Bess Myerson Grant's "You Don't Have To Buy War, Mrs. Smith" for a 24-hour period on Wednesday, March 24.

In the unique film "Vietnam and Beyond", Schoenbrun relates the facts about the U. S. involvement in Indochina and what we can do to end this involvement.

"Vietnam and Beyond" will be shown at Monterey Peninsula College in Lecture Forum 103 on Wednesday March 24 at 7 and at the Pacific Grove Art Center in the Main Gallery at 8:30.

Schoenbrun, brilliant historian-journalist, has studied events in Indochina for nearly 25 years and has testified before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee on these facts.

Bess Myerson Grant's "You Don't Have To Buy War, Mrs. Smith" will also be shown immediately following the Schoenbrun film at the Pacific Grove Art Center, Main Gallery at 9:15.

Both "Vietnam and Beyond" and 'You Don't Have To Buy War, Mrs. Smith" will be screened alternately twice, each beginning at 2 at Hartnell College in Salinas, also on March 24.

The public is most cordially invited to attend. No admission will be charged at any of the film performances.

Call 375-1610 (Mrs. Nancy Shirey) for information on meetings of Mothers and Others For Peace.

Referendum Will Be June 1

June 1 is the date set by the Seaside City Council for a city-wide referendum on their recent urban renewal ordinance.

The ordinance, if approved by the referendum would transfer all the powers of the city's appointive five-member redevelopment board to the council.

The drive to have an election concerning the ordinance was spearheaded by the Seaside Citizens for Good Government, which recently began the petition to recall the council members.

It was also learned recently that the recall petitions against council members Stephen Ross, Pearl Carey, Oliver Murray and Gerald McGrath were short of the required number of signatures.

However, the number of signatures needed to qualify the petitions is so minimal, it is expected that very little trouble will required to obtain them in the thirty day period allowed by law.

Pete Cruz, who is coordinating the drive for signatures, has started to collect those he needs, which range from 28 for Ross to 9 for Murray.

A problem arose over whether the two elections could be held at the same time.

Mayor Lou Haddad suggested that they be held on the same day to save the taxpayers' money, but interim City Attorney Donald Smith pointed out that differing time requirements in statutes relating to referenda and recalls make that impossible.

After a short recess, the council adopted a motion to hold referendum on June 1.

Senior Center Opens Soon

The Monterey County Anti-Poverty Coordinating Council's Senior Citizens Program has plans for opening a new senior center on April 5 in Seaside at 1490 Fremont.

the Anti-Poverty Senior Citizens Program, which had its start in Monterey County in 1970, currently operates senior clubs in Salinas, Castroville, Pajaro, Marina, Soledad and Monterey, with a total enrollment of three-hundred senior citizens.

Coordinator of the program, Mrs. Doris Brown, said the centers provide a common ground where persons over 55-years of age can gather and function as a unit in various community and group projects.

Some of the free services offered by the senior citizens program include educational courses, cultural tours, visiting service and transportation.

On the Monterey Peninsula for additional information about senior citizens contact the Project Director Mrs. Russce Sewell, Phone: 394-6877.

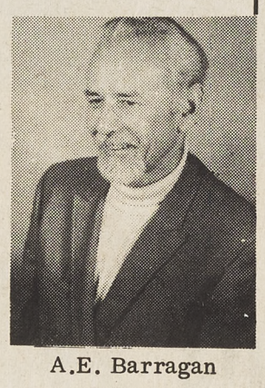
Seaside Ripples

A. E. 'Andy' Barragan, Publisher



A.E. Barragan

The long-awaited announcement that the Graham Buick auto agency will start construction at the Seaside Peninsula Auto Center was made this week. This addition to the nearly empty auto center will bring to three the number of dealers now in the project. The other two are Wester Volkswagen and Butts Pontiac-Cadillac.

If we remember correctly, the center was to have been completed a couple of years ago, but the near-empty expensively-developed project has been sitting there eating up tax dollars. Together with the rancor developed over the hundreds of displaced home owners it finally became a sore-point on which the elected officials of our city had to take a stand.

This sore-point was further aggravated when the same redevelopment agency, that began the auto center together with Mayor Haddad and former councilmen, Schmidt and Houser, with the conivance of their hand-picked agency attorney, Saul Weingarten, went ahead with the development of the Laguna Grande Project as a motel, visitor-oriented development. They did this against the vote of the majority of the voters of Seaside.

This crass disregard by Haddad and his appointed redevelopment agency of the vote of the people was what led the council to take over the powers of the redevelopment agency and to place it back in the hands of the elected officials of the city of Seaside. This is what elected officials

with BETTY MANN

Hi There, Fellow Peninsulans:

This week's column will consist of many thoughts, ideas and ramblings (smile). The first thought that occurred to me this week was about the sad passing of one of our beloved black civil rights leaders, Whitney Young, Jr. This saddened the hearts of many people and focused the spotlight on sincere hypocrites.

As I watched the graveside funeral services on television, and listened to President Nixon's glowing words of recognition about the wonderful accomplishments of Whitney Young and the dedication that this great man showed for his black people and all people, my mind flashed back. Mixed emotions and thoughts clouded my mind. Here was a man-the leader of the United States-who was standing there eulogizing this black man who had recently appealed to the President to meet with him and a group of civil rights leaders to have a discussion on faster procedures for securing civil rights. The President refused to see any of them, saying he was too busy. Telegrams of protest, indigation and concern were sent to him, but no comment came from the White House. Now a few short months later, Whitney Young, Jr., is dead and the President asks the widow if he may speak at the graveside services of this man who wanted to be heard and recognized while he was alive???

Injustices that are occuring here in Seaside are the "rule or ruin" procedures of our own Mayor Haddad and his puppets about town. We are now experiencing some of the same tactics that were used in the days of Russian Czars' regime! "Rule or Ruin." Most of you are aware from months of reading the local papers how the Mayor has ranted and raved, about the new city council. He says he "cannot understand and get along with them." So he gets his puppets to stir up the people through all sorts of antics and tactics; he even has a Seaside newspaper that writes about almost nothing, but the greatness of Mayor Haddad on every page! When not discussing the Mayor there are smears and degradings and personal affronts to everyone who has crossed him. They have even tried to poke fun at this column, which is not meant to be a professional-type column. I have never spent an hour in a journalism class. I simply try to keep the people of Seaside informed of some of the happenings about town! Everyone that works on this newspaper has had personal indignations written about him, because, I guess, Haddad felt the citizens were reading this paper and recognizing what we were trying to prove about our Mayor, and the council. This is the type of person that we have sitting in the esteemed position of Mayor of Seaside!!

The people downtown are wondering what's wrong with the people of Seaside. Why are we letting Haddad get away with this dicatorship??? The Monterey Herald's editor even wrote an editorial deploring the tactics and the attitude of Mayor Haddad. The editor stated that it would be a sad thing for Seaside if the council agreed and went along with everything the Mayor wanted. He also said the mayor should be able to work within his council, even though he is not amiable to them. In other words, readers, everyone thinks we as citizens of Seaside, are sick for allowing an expensive recall election only because the mayor cannot get along with his council!!! And since we all have sat back and allowed it to go this far, we are going to have to have a recall election. Let's all stand up and be counted for morality and indignation towards "one man's dictatorship." Because we are all responsible citizens, of Seaside VOTE NO for a new council!

Other news about town: Reverend H.H. Lusk of Seaside is running for the office of Trustee on the Monterey Peninsula Unified School District Board. Not much has been written about this young gentleman, but I feel that those of you who do not know him, should be aware of his dedication and responsibility to all people. Just a few summers ago children in Seaside, were out in the street with nothing to keep their active minds and bodies occupied during the long vacation. Some of the children had working parents. A large majority of children ran wild and uncontrolled! Rev. Lusk called a meeting of parents in the community and explained what he would like to do for our children in Seaside. A organization, which was named "Operation Shoe Strings" was founded. Merchants, businessmen, individuals and the school district were asked to donate money for a summer project to take the children off of the streets. All the necessary money was raised through these contributions. An organization of adults and teenagers from Seaside, Monterey, Carmel, Pebble Beach and Big Sur volunteered their services. Five centers were opened at Bethel Baptist Church (Rev. Lusk's church), King Jr. High, Juan Cabrillo School, Highland and another Seaside school. The children were taken off the streets of Seaside and were fed breakfast in the morning; hot lunch at noon; taken on tours to San Francisco and to the broadwalk in Santa Cruz and also to the Rodeo in Salinas (some of these children had never been out of Seaside). The children were taught arts and crafts, knitting, sewing, reading and all of the

Church Services

Thought's effect on daily experience will be brought out in a Lesson-Sermon on "Reality" at Christian Science church services Sunday.

"Hold thought steadfastly to the enduring, the good, and the true, and you will bring these into your experience proportionably to their occupancy of your thoughts," a citation to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states.

Bible selections include this verse from Philippians: "Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if there by any virtue, and if there by any praise, think on these things."

Sunday services at First Church of Christ, Scientist, Monterey begin at 10:30 am. and are open at all.

Wine-Tasting Party at MPC

Edward Devlin and Ray Fabrizio have chosen and will present the wines.

Guests also enjoyed an evening of dancing, delicious dinner, a marvelous floor show and an excellent fashion show, featuring authentic African dresses. Each model was terrific as she strolled to the beat of the conga drums.

CONCERT

The 65-voice Monterey Peninsula College Chorus, with the College Singer, a smaller group, will appear in MPC's twenty-first annual spring choral concert tomorrow (Friday,) at 8:30 p.m. in Bethlehem Lutheran Church Monterey, with the public invited to attend without charge.

Conducted by Dr. Harvey Marshall and accompanied by Camille Olaeta, the chorus will sing two major works: "Magnificat," composed in the 18th century by Giovanni Battista Pergolesi and "Rejoice in the Lamb," a modern cantata by Benjamin Britten.

Featured soloists in the first presentation will be students Idella Bass, soprano; Margaret Demarest, alto; Charles Hartley, tenor; and Steve Snyder, bass.

Words for the Britten work were taken from a poem of the same name by Christorpher Smart, an 18th century poet who was described as "deeply religious but of a strange and unbalanced mind." Student soloists who will sing Smart's "chaotic," often humorous poem about saints and cats will be soprano Lorraine Kilvar, alto Gloria Cleveland, tenor Gerald Banghart and bass William Benjamin.

MPUSD Will Work in Rehab Program

Monterey Peninsula Unified School District will participate in the Monterey Peninsula Cooperative Vocational Rehabilitation Program for 1971-72, along with Carmel and Pacific Grove Unified School Districts and Monterey Peninsula College.

MPUSD's financial commitment is $5,600 - $2,800 per high school. At urging of board member George Givi-den, the board stipulated that MPUSD receive its proportionate share of services.

Each participating school is to have a vocational rehabilitation counselor on campus one day a week to help handicapped youth in school and recently out-of-school learn to compete with normal young people for jobs.

A budget of $39,000 provided by the State Department of Rehabilitation is to be spent for tutoring, trade school courses, tools, wage subsidies, initial union dues, transportation to work experience stations and other services not provided by district nor VEA funds. A report from Samuel M. Kier, coordinator of special education, indicates the occupational placement and guidance service for educable mentally retarded students (EMR) and certain severely educationally handicapped graduates is badly needed.

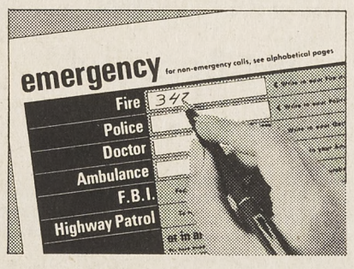
Here's a reminder of what to do if you ever receive a malicious or obscene phone call: simply hang up. Most anonymous callers will be discouraged if they can't find an audience. (In addition, never give your phone number to an unknown caller.) If such calls continue, however, please notify our Business Office. We have employees trained to handle these problems, and many of these callers have been identified. We're working closely with law enforcement agencies to convict violators, which can result in fines and imprisonment. We want to do all we can to help protect your privacy.



Do you have the phone numbers of your doctor, the police and the fire department written inside the front cover of your phone book? If you haven't already put them there, why not take time right now to do it. Then you'll know right where to look if you need them in a hurry. In an emergency, dialing the number direct could save moments that really count.

are for - to carry out the will of the people, not to thwart it as Haddad and Weingarten had been doing. This is why the people of Seaside elected a new city government. They wanted to see to it that the WILL OF THE PEOPLE WAS CARRIED OUT.

But now, Pete Cruz, carrying the banner for one B.J. Dolan, the self-appointed "Citizen for Good Government" in Seaside, has obtained a petition which will call for a referendum on whether the redevelopment agency should be given back their powers. Cruz claims that the agency as it was formerly constituted was in the best American traditon of "checks and balances" and, therefore, its powers should be given back. Since when is it a "check and balance" to have a board fully appointed by one man to check an elected body, such as the city council, which is elected by all of the voters of Seaside. It is this type of demagoguery which is used by Haddad and his supporters that has made it so difficult for the majority of the elected officials to run the city government according to the wishes of the majority--the voters who elected them. From the very day that they sat down to their first council meeting they have been harrassed by Haddad and his cohorts, who have refused to accept the will of the voters. They have shown this first with an ill-conceived recall and now with a referendum.

Haddad is an old fighter and he knows well the old axiom of prize-fighting-keep your opponent on the defensive, keep punching that left into him and he never can get set for a good blow. That is exactly what he has been doing and getting away with it. The voters of Seaside will soon put an end to he and his cohort's campaign of lies and innuendos. Demagoguery lies and character-assassination can only get you so far before the voters begin to see the truth of a situation. In spite of distortion through lies and half-truths, somehow the public finally gets wise and throws the rascals out. It has happened time and again in the history of elections and it will happen again here in Seaside.

But Beautiful

By Anna Jones

Social comments being sung by black women today, Nina Simone and Roberta Flack, are reiterations of the poetic flawless phrases of Billie Holiday, called the Dark Lady of the Sonnets. I quote Leroi Jones:

"Nothing was more perfect than what she was. Nor more willing to fai. (If we call failure something light can realize. Once you have seen it, or felt whatever thing she conjured growing in your flesh.)

"At the point where what she did left singing, you were on your own. At the point where what she was was in her voice, you listen and make your own promises. More than I have felt to say, she says always. More than she has ever felt is what we mean by fantasy. Emotion is whatever you are. She stayed in the street."

In 1937, before Lillian Smith wrote a novel called "Strange Fruit," Billie Holiday sang:

Southern trees bear a strange fruit,
Blood on the leaves and blood at the root,
Black bodies swinging in the southern breeze, Strange fruit hanging from the poplar trees.
Pastoral scene of the gallant south,
Bulging eyes and a twisted mouth,
Scent of magnolias, sweet and fresh
Then the sudden smell of burning flesh.
Here is a fruit for the crows to pluck,
For the rains to gather,
for the winds to suck,
For the sun to rot, for the trees to drop.
Here is a strange and bitter crop.

That she was bitter is not to be doubted, if one but listens to her voice that cries out to an earless audience. That her lifestyle was strange, written records verify; bartered from the time she was 16, bandied from coast to coast, continent to continent; banish, finally at 44, and left to die of malnutrition in a New York hospital.

The malnutrition recounted in the newspapers was not the lack of nourishing food but the lack of love. She existed in a loveless world.

Today's black woman singer is not an imitator, just as Lady Day was not an imitator. They, too, have come to grips with the reality. There is no symbolism in their comments. One always knows "what it is." They sing of life in the raw, which is seldom mild. Billie also was burdened with truth, which was her full-time habit. Her other habits were part-time.

As Leroi Jones says, "These are natural things. That's just the way life is."

Letter To The Editor

As probably everyone else in Seaside, I receive the "Seaside Community News." Its political sponsors seem to provide free distribution. I know that it is not the custom to address comments about one paper to another, but any direct association with the Community News does not appeal to me. Reading its March 10 editorial on freedom, I would like to voice an opinion.

There is no need to comment on the contents of said editorial, other than to identify it as illiterate, fascist propaganda. What I would like to point out, though, is the connection that the editorial establishes between rightwing extremism and certain local, political groups.

I must admit that I have neglected Seaside politics. Dismayed by the pseudo-patriotic censorship around the last July 4th parade and repelled by tactics and personalities of Seaside city government, I was reluctant to become involved. There must be many Seaside residents who share these feelings.

However, when it appears that fascist and racist elements are attmpting to take over city government, it is time to become very cautious about their political activities, there candidates and their advertisers. I would urge the voters not to support that faction in any way, regardless of their opinions about the present council.

Yours very truly,

L.M.P.T. Wijsen

The world today does not show any sign of improving its sad conditions. We have advanced to the highest degree of technology known to man. The economics have the best potential yet seen in man's history. Yet we are living in a constant fear of foreigh wars, political disruption, economic and natural disaster.

With all the resources so abundantly available there are still people starving, not only in the Far East but right here in our own country. What could possibly be the cause? Is it the unrest of the younger generation; the far left of our political structure; the war in Viet Nam? Are these the cause or the effect of our condition today? Is it possible that the systems both political and economical, not only of the United States, but those of the entire world are confused to the extent that they are an unreliable basis for our existance? How many political and economical researchers have offered a way to correct not only the condition of the U. S., but that of the world to no avail?

It seems to be more or less a hopeless cause with the proposed remedies to correct our poor standing in our worldly state. The most essential and, yet, the least substantiated solution to correct our situation takes the least argumentation. It is that of unity -- unity in reason, cause and purpose. Regardless of a man's position in politics or of his financial status, he is still alive and it is necessary for him to be able to go on living if he is to attain that for which he seeks.

The need for unity is apparent though there is no room in unity for political parties or class groups, for the problems are not so complex as to involve politics or economics, leave these to be the effect.

The following statement cannot be denied. With all the arguments to the contrary of a unity of people under God, the position of the world today lies in a state of non-progression and notable demise in every facet of life.

What does it take for this unity to come about? A smile, a proper attitude toward your brother regardless of race, creed or color. It only takes an individual a short meditative moment to decide and then give it to his brother. The time is now. Do it now!

Love your brother.

Who Cares Your Social Security

A one-term President? Very likely this will be the fate of Richard Milhaus Nixon. A number of factors, some beyond his control and some not, are going to give him much trouble in the 1972 election.

He can't help it that our population is growing fast, or that our technology is closing in on us like a blinding fog in a blizzard. Whoever was President would have had difficulty keeping everyone happy with welfare, employment, crime, racial, business profits and some other sticky problems. However, Mr. Nixon has more or less asked for the static he is getting from our slow withdrawal from Vietnam, partly because he steadfastly refuses to really commit himself to really ending our involvement. He had to make this choice of course because of the danger to the economy if industry has nothing to look forward to, and that could be as dangerous to his reelection chances as the war.

But to try to keep down the static he has put all his eggs in one ragged basket that has a bottom like a broken picket fence - his Vietnamization program. Critics have attacked this idea from the very beginning - pointing out that since the South Vietnamese power structure could not hold off the North Vietnamese with U.S. support, how are they going to do it without our support? And all the while we hear reports that the Thieu-Ky regime is considering invasion of the north, which is just what we need after Cambodia and Laos.

So now the truth is out. The idea of South Vietnam having the strength or the will to hold off the communists after we leave Asia is exploding in Laos with the complete rout of thousands of South Vietnamese soldiers who suddenly found themselves trapped in impossible terrain with the highway cut behind them and only two ways to get out - by helicopter or on foot over the mountains. Some of them are getting back, some not.

Official military sources and our administration point out that the friendly forces are simply "maneuvering", or "searching for new supply caches", which is about as believable as the earth being flat, but we must recognize that it is not a pleasant task to admit that the whole concept of the President's withdrawal plan has collapsed. This is the big issue, with far greater effect on America's future in Asia than anything else that has occurred since Johnson tricked Congress with the Gulf of Tonkin caper.

So what do we do now? Not even a busy housewife in Peoria can now be expected to believe that Vietnamization can be a basis for our so-called "honorable withdrawal" from Asia, and then along comes a freshman congressman by the name of McCloskey, the same one who beat none other than Shirley Temple, who is opening up on Nixon with attacks that make Nixon look like either a liar or an idiot or both in no uncertain terms. And McCloskey will probably replace Nixon in 1972, unless the democrats come up with somebody as yet unnamed who can say things louder than Muskie and without the intonement of an obviously very tired Hubert Humphrey.

Today's tip - don't bet more than ten dollars on Nixon in 1972.

Your Social Security

Q. Something Ihave been wondering about -- how does this early Social Security retirement work? Suppose a man stops work at 60 years old, or at 62 years old-- what is his situation ? How can he know what is best to do?

A. There are a whole lot of variables in your question. Some of them are easy enough to answer. If a man retires from work at 60, he can't draw Social Security at that time. The earliest he can receive retirement payments is at 62. So, if he doesn't work after 60, the amount of his future monthly benefits may be smaller than if he had continued to work and pay contributions. If he takes his benefits at 62, his monthly check will be 20 percent less than if he had waited to 65 to begin receiving benefits. If he started at 63-1/2, for instance, his check would be 10 percent less. This works out that he would, on the average, get the same lifetime TOTAL amount whether he starts at 62, or any point afterwards up to 65. Another thing that might influence his decision on when to file would be the age of any young children. They can receive payments while he is drawing benefits until they're 18 (or 22 if full-time students). Also the age of his wife could make a difference. There is much to consider. The best advice to give might be if a man is thinking about retiring at 62 or before, he couldn't lose by paying a visit to this Social Security office.

Are You Operating Your Business Under A Fictitious Name?

If So You Must Re-Register it Now! See News Article Below

New Law in effect:

A prediction that 300,000 firms doing business in California under fictitious trade names will re-file under the new fictitious firm name law was made this week by William G. Sharp, county clerk of Los Angeles County. Sharp is chairman of a committee of county clerks which has been preparing procedures for the new statute.

The new requirement for re-filing of all firm names goes into effect July 1, 1971, but Sharp said the filings will be accepted by the county clerk's offices beginning Monday, and he urged early filing in order to avoid the rush just before the July 1 deadline. The filing fee under the new law will be $10. Filings must be renewed hereafter at five year intervals.

The Los Angeles county clerk also pointed out that the historic publication requirement has been continued under the new law and that publication of the statement once a week for four successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation in the neighborhood of the affected business is required whenever there has been any change in the information contained in the certificate previously filed. Publication will not be required in instances where there has been no change in the information carried in the old certificate.

A fictitious name, Sharp pointed out, is one that does not include the surname of the operator or one that implies the existence of other owners; or, if a corporation, if it includes a name other than the name given in the articles of incorporation.

The purpose of the fictitious business name procedure is to protect the consumer in enabling him to find out the person with whom he is really dealing, Sharp said. If he has been defrauded by the "John Doe Television and Time Clock Repair Shop" and the shop is really owned and operated by "Richard Roe" or the "East Ganawanda Land and Farming Corporation," the consumer can find in the fictitious name statement information for bringing suit for damages. The procedure provides a ready source of information concerning identity realities obscured by fictitious business or trade names. Most banks now require evidence that the fictitious filing and publication requirements have been met before they will open an account under a fictitious name.

The office of each county clerk will furnish forms required by the new law or information and forms from this newspaper.

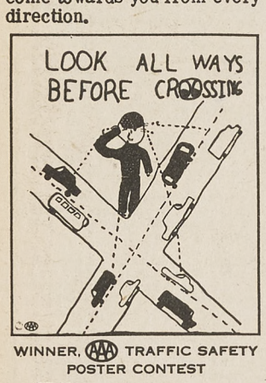
Look Always, All Ways

Pedestrians crossing streets at complicated intersections where as many as four or more streets may converge should look all ways before crossing, says the California State Automobile Association, because cars can come towards you from every direction.



WINNER, AAA TRAFFIC SAFETY POSTER CONTEST

While pedestrians are in most danger while crossing streets, many other crossing situations are also hazardous, warns the AAA club.

Cars coming out of alleys and pulling ou of parking places, either on the street or in a parking lot, can surprise an unwary pedestrian.

The most important thing to do is LOOK.

LOOK--because a car may be going through a red light.

LOOK -- because car turn signals do not always work.

LOOK -- because drivers are sometimes careless.

Drivers can help pedestrians by obeying traffic controls and by signalling their intentions to stop or turn, says the AAA motoring organization.

A poster depiciting the slogan "Look All Ways Before Crossing," is being distributed to all schools by the AAA as part of its nationwide school traffic safety education program.

Personalized Plates Are Big Success

More than twenty-six thousand California motorists have applied for personalized license plates to put on their cars and 20,000 have been approved.

Applicants have been flooding the Department of Motor Vehicles with so many plate orders - more than 1,500 a week-that DMV is experiencing a lag in filling their orders.

"The response to the program--which has already put a quarter of a million dollars in an environment protection fund--is highly encouraging," said Director of Motor Vehicles Robert C. Cozens.

"Possibly our biggest problem is duplication of requests for popular letter- number combinations, We have had to inform one in ten applicants that the combination of his choice has already been taken.

Cozens said that, as a partial solution to this dilemma, DMV is working on ways to inform a personalized plate applicant, at the time he places his order in a local DMV office, what choices are open to him.

For $25 California motorists can get their choice of up to six letters or numbers or a combination of the two, to display on passenger car license plates. Thereafter there is a yearly contribution of $10 plus the regular registration renewal fee. The money collected -- after expenses-- goes into a fund to fight pollution--especially smog.

Legislator Hopes To Ease Transportation

Legislation to provide funds for pollution abatement and local transportation programs has been introduced by Senator Alfred E. Alquist (D, San Jose).

The measure removes the sales tax exemption on gasoline and provides for the return of most of the estimated $120 million revenue to local authorities for local transportation needs. A portion of the revenue could also be used for research and control of transportation relatd environmental pollution.

Senator Alquist, chairman of the Senate Select Committee on Rapid Transit, said:

"California is faced with transportation strangulation. Our cities must have a dependable source of revenue for public transit. Our rural areas need improved freeways and roads. This legislation meets these essential needs and will avoid the loss of millions of federal matching funds."

Alquist pointed out that while the federal government recently allocated $3.1 billion in matching funds for public transportation, California has little money available to qualify for these funds. The Alquist bill will produce revenue that could be used by local authorities for this purpose.

The Alquist proposal, while emphasizing the role of local authorities in determining solutions to transportation needs also provides for overall planning. The State Transportation Board must approve local projects in accordance with the following need priorities:

To plan, finance, construct, maintain and operate public transportation systems;

To subsidize privately owned passenger service such as rail and bus line and. To improve the safety and convenience of freeways, roads and bridges.

"Little choice remains. If we don't finance comprehensive transportation with a fuel sales tax," Alquist said, "we'll end up increasing property taxes or instituting local general sales taxes. A sales tax on gasoline is the most logical of all because in the end it is the motorist who will benefit most from a balanced transportation system."

Instructor Appointed

Dr. Gordon Williams of Pacific Grove, Monterey Peninsula College chemistry instructor and president of the academic senate, has been appointed to the committee on chemistry in the two-year colleges of the American Chemistry Society's division of chemistry education.

In announcing the appointment, MPC President George J. Faul noted that Dr. Williams will be one of "approximately 50 individuals nationwide" on the committee and that "this honor is recognition of the work he has done here in teaching chemistry."

A member of the MPC faculty since 1956, Dr. Williams earned his B. S. degree at the University of California, his M. A. at San Francisco State College and his Ph. D. at the University of the Pacific.

Sergeant's Heroism Is Rewarded

CONGRATULATIONS - Major General Phillip B. Davidson, commanding general of Ft. Ord, congratulates Sergeant Bruce W. Williamson for receiving Silver Star, Bronze Star Medal with V Device and Oak Leaf Cluster, Air Medal, Army Commendation Medal and Purple Heart during recent ceremonies.

The Silver Star, the Bronze Star Medal with V Device and Oak Leaf Cluster, the Air Medal, the Army Commendation Medal and the Purple Heart all earned during action against the enemy in Vietnam were presented recently to Sergeant Bruce W. Williamson by his commanding general, Major General Phillip B. Davidson, Jr.

Sergeant Williamson currently assigned to Basic Combat Training Committee Group at Ft. Ord, was a member of the 1st Cavalry Division when, according to the official citation, on June 30, 1970, he spotted a helicopter which had crashed in flames as a result of enemy fire.

The citation continued "Sergeant Williamson exposed himself to the heavy enemy as he moved through underbrush to the burning ship. He entered the blazing aircraft and began moving the injured men to safety. He repeatedly braved the fire and the exploding ammunition as he assisted in removing all the wounded from the flaming wreckage."

For this gallant action under fire and stress, he was awarded the Silver Star.

In other separate actions, Sergeant, then Specialist 4, Williamson earned the Bronze Star Medal with V Device for heroic action during close contact with the enemy, the Oak Leaf Cluster to the Bronze Star for for ground operations against the enemy and he received the Purple Heart for wounds received in yet another action against the enemy.

Bank Names Area Judges

Bank of America has named five judges to select zone winners from area high school seniors in the bank's annual Achievement Awards competition in Monterey on Tuesday, March 30.

The decision of these judges will boost four of 29 hopefuls into regional finals in Monterey in May and an opportunity to compete for a top award of $1,000 in each of four study fields.

Drawn from business, the professions and civic groups, the zone judges will conduct panel discussions with the students about significant contemporary issues.

Based on these interviews and the scholastic records and extracurricular activities of the students, the judges will choose the four most well-rounded students to advance to the area finals.

Judges of the Monterey zone event are:

Willard T. Branson, County Supervisor; Peter J. Coniglio, Monterey attorney; J. Bruce Kaltenbach, owner of Cypress Sight and Sound, Pacific Grove; Milton R. Farrell, Seaside City Manager and William J. Meidl, President of Watsonville Federal Savings and Loan Association.

Moderator of the zone event will be Allan Petersdorf, Superintendent, Monterey Peninsula Unified School District.

Coordinating the zone event is L. U. Mayland, Vice President and Manager of Bank of America's Seaside Branch.

First place Zone winners are chosen in each four study fields -- fine arts, science and mathematics, vocational arts, and liberal arts.

The four zone winners are each assured of a $250 award at the regional finals, where they will compete for other awards ranging up to the four first place grants of $1,000. Second and third place zone winners in each of the four fields receive $50 and $25 awards, respectively.

Local seniors participating in the zone event are: Yong Soon Min, Monterey High; Mary Rubio, Seaside High, Yulanda Davis, Seaside High; Marty-Jo Demetras, Santa Catalina School for Girls; Mark Leach, Monterey High; Charles Dickey, Seaside High; Dana Sakamoto, Monterey High; Tom Dubrasich, Monterey High; Douglas Hendricks, Seaside High.

Datsun Sales Increase

Datsun, last year's top gainer among the top ten imports in U. S. auto sales on a percentage basis, is off to a resounding start in maintaining its sales pace in 1971.

Retail sales of the Datsun line of cars for the month of February reached 14,051 for an increase of 201 percent over the same period a year ago.

The Datsun line, which is distributed in this country by the Nissan Motor Corp. in U. S. A., also had another noteworthy increase in the sale of their ever-popular Lil 'Hustler pickup truck. Retail sales of the truck amounted to 5,635 units in the month of February which was an increase of 90 percent over February, 1970.

Combined Datsun retail sales for the month of February were 19,686 units up 158 percent over last year.

"We were very happy with our sales last year," commented Robert O. Link, Vice President of Sales for Nissan, "but this year it is evident that our long range plans are really producing results. Just last year it took better than four months to reach the sales figures that our dealers have already put in the books these first two months of 1971."

With a recently announced projection of 240,000 annual sales it would seem that Datsun was well ahead of that forecast especially with the Fall months traditionally much greater than those months at the outset of the year.

AUTOMOBILE DRIVERS

In the United States, reports the National Automobile Club, three out of every four people over the age of 15 drive automobiles.

Girls Can Become Explorers

After two years of research and field experience, the Exploring division of the Boy Scouts of America, will now admit girls to full membership in Exploring, its high school-age action program.

The announcement was made in Monterey recently by Scout Executive Frank Buck, after word was received that approval has been given by the national Executive Board of the Boy Scouts of America. This will be effective April 1.

Buck said that the action was inrecognition of the chartered requiremnet to serve boys and young men and it would enable Exploring to more effectively carry out its mandate to meet the needs and interests of today's youth.

Until January 1970, Exploring had been an all-male program. Acting on research studies and recommendations of business, education, religious and youth leaders, Exploring began a one-year trial of admitting young women to participate in the program. Participation was restricted to special-interest Explorer posts organized around a career or vocational interest.

The national Executive Board's action now makes it possible for coeds to become full-fledged members and for adult women volunteers to act in leadership capacities.

During the last year there have been 45 Explorer posts in this area with 72 girls as participants and 558 boy members. Membership in a post or Sea Explorer ship would be entirely at the discretion of the sponsoring organization.

Age requirements for girls are the same as male members. They must be in the ninth grade or above, or 15 years of age or older.

CAR BATTERIES

Car batteries, according to the National Automobile Club, can dry up in both hot and cold weather.

DLIWC Holds Graduation

Nearly 150 military language students from the Defense Language Institute, West Coast Branch, Presidio of Monterey, were graduated in recent exercises.

Army and Navy officers and enlisted men heard Robert Sherry, owner and manager of Radio Station KIDD speak about the importance of being able to communicate with people in their own language. He recalled his visits to France and Russia where he was handicapped by not knowing the language.

Sherry, a graduate of the University of Chattanooga and a veteran broadcaster, has been active in local community affairs. A past president of the Sports Car Racing Association of the Monterey Peninsula (SCRAMP) and the Monterey Kiwanis Club, he has also served as vice-persident of the Monterey Peninsula Chamber of Commerce.

Currently, he is director of SCRAMP and a member of both the Monterey Peninsula Chamber of Commerce and the Executive Committee of the Monterey Downtown Council.

Colonel Kibbey M. Horne, commandant, congratulated the four Certificate of Achievement recipients and presented three of the seven awards: Specialist 6 Garnett E. Bell, a student of Thai, received the Commandant's Award---and engraved wristwatch---for achieving an end-of-course average above 96% and submitting a 250 word paper on "The Importance of Foreign Language Study."

Specialist 6 Robert E. Dannaker Jr., a student of Vietnamese, received the Maxwell D. Taylor Award (an engraved pen set).

The Association of the United States Army Plaque went to Seaman Apprentice Scott W. Carmichael, a student of Chinese-Mandarin.

Mrs. John Gratiot of the Monterey Foundation presented the Monterey Foundation Book Award to Seaman Laurence M. Cauble Jr., a student of Chinese-Mandarin.

Hans G. Von Richter, chairman of the German Branch, persented the German Consul General of San Francisco Book Award to Specialist 4 Michael H. Mendoza, a student of German.

Specialist 4 Joseph R. Dane, a student of Russian received the Pushkin Award from Nicolas Romanoff, chairman of the Russian Intermediate Branch and Seaman William D. Dunn was given the Chinese-Mandarin Faculty Book Award by Tsi Yang Chang of the Chinese-Mandarin Branch.

Certificates of Achievement awardees were: Specialist Dannaker, Specialist Bell, Seaman Apprentice Carmichael, and Specialist Dane.

Other language branches graduating students were: Turkish, Vietnamese and Contract Vietnamese.

Music was provided by the Twenty-eighth Army Band under the direction of Staff Sergeant Epimenio Valencia.

important things that help to motivate the making of good citizens. Being a part-time volunteer in this program, I saw the good that came out of it and the foresight this man had to see that was needed for children in this community. "Operation Shoe Strings" is still in existence. It is federally-funded now and it functions to help welfare mothers, who are working or going to school to become self sufficient.

Rev. Lusk is also the President of the Anti-Poverty Association for Montery County. He has a noted background for helping children and the poor. So, citizens of Seaside as we go to the Polls to elect a trustee to the M.P.U.S.D. board let us judge all of the candidates' backgrounds and select whom we think will give the best assistance to our youth.

Coming events: On May 1, the members of The Monterey Cotillion League will sponsor an authentic African Ball which will be held at the Outrigger on Cannery Row. Original and authentic African Foods will be served. African and American music will be played. African dances will be performed. Attire for the evening will be Dashikas, Kilembas and Kangas. Door prizes will be given. All proceeds will benefit the scholarship fund. So for an evening of authentic African foods and Afro-American fun join the members of the Monterey Cotillion League at their African Ball, May 1. Everyone is welcome whether you are black, white, yellow, red or green. (smile). Next week, the continuation of "Language in the Black Culture."

Government. At this point two issues had been transacted by the Council, appointments to Boards and Commissions, and the Pit. Out of this drive the so-called leader of the city had concocted total war with his government. Haddad practiced total hostility to the very assembly he was supposed to make function. Haddad must rule or ruin. But few are so passionate about their power nor so contemptuous of honesty that such a vendetta could be established in the public mind except through a very dependable propaganda machine and the deliberate intention to use the dignity of his office to lend credibility to his lies. In this context, the Mayor lent all possible support to the Dolan-Lioi harrassment by opposing recalls, generally but foreseeing this one inevitably. It was absolutely necessary for the Mayor had no intention of learning to govern when his temperament and skill limited his ability only to rule.

The three ring circus label became the cliche of discredit. Three ring circuses can be amusing. The Mayor's summer Commie Campaign was pure hypocrisy. Seaside's Council Chambers have been one of the few places where persons have been denied the opportunity to voice their concerns. Seaside is the only city in California where citizens have had to seek a council vote to get permission to address the council. Here voicing an opinion adverse to the Mayor's can get one accredited to his personal communist party - without even a confirmation from Moscow.

When Saul M. Weingarten moved into the malcontents camp to give them the legal immunity necessary to the character of their operation, Mr. Weingarten stooped to the same breach of trust tactics that were proved against him in the Marie Parker case. It appeared that he was assembling the same type of conspiratorial network for which he was charged in the Patricia Schacht case. Here the Council was witnessing the same breach of trust tactics that Mr. Weingarten had employed against others to their destructions.

Note well Citizens of Seaside that when Breach of Trust was being openly practiced against the Council by the City Attorney, the Mayor supported it because it coincided with his own. Where else could a Mayor and a City Attorney practice Breach of Trust tactics against their own City Council? Where else is there such a sickening chronicle of events where the facts were never troubled by the news media? Where else could such infamy be peddled under the label "Honorable"?

With the removal of Weingarten their power had been seriously challenged. The spiritual syndication between Haddad, Weingarten, and the Seaside Citizens for Good (Haddad) Government had an objective necessity - restoration and vindication with a vengeance.

Alone the Mayor was not worth a Recall, but the challenge to Mr. Weingarten caused the Recall to orbit instantaneously. The Mayor and his office became a twenty-four hour a day propaganda machine. Venomous motivation required they establish their own newspaper. There were limits beyond which the established media would not go. Bylined anonymities concocted their manufactured malice. Have you ever wondered what kind of economics must be behind the office of Mayor that would necessitate that a newspaper be established to preserve its power and prerogatives? Haddad complains to people of the cost of his service to the city in loss of income from $40,000 to a mere $30,000. Yet this propaganda factory has to be brought into existance to protect this empire? How about those apples? Call him Honorable?

(Copies of this statement can be obtained at the Seaside City Hall from minutes of the March 18 council meeting.)

Wood Wants To Reimburse Counties

Assemblyman Bob Wood has announced that he was co-authoring legislation to reimburse local governments for revenue lost as a result of the "open-space" program.

The bill, Assembly Bill 68, calls for the State to reimburse cities, counties and special districts 100 percent of themoney lost due to the California Land Conservation 1964.

The bill, if successful, will provide monies to local governments in Monterey County and can be used as tax relief for Monterey County taxpayers.

Under the open-space program, certain agriculture and recreation land may be put into a preserve for at least 20 years by contracting with Monterey County. During this 20 years, the land cannot be used for other purposes and is conserved as open space.

In return, property is assed on an income basis and not on a comparative sales which results in a slightly reduced property tax for the land owners who agree to put this land into an agricultural preserve.

Wood said that "the land conservation program is needed to provide tax incentives for the preservation of the State's open spaces, but the revenue loss to local governments requires state assistance."

"In Monterey County alone," he said, "over 300,000 acres of land have been placed in the program. This amounts to a tax loss to many Monterey County taxpayers. I have always felt," Wood concluded, "that while we want to keep the costs of State government down, we do not want to force tax increases onto the local property taxpayer.
